What Our Visitors Are Saying.....

Wonderful Wildflowers - What's Flowering Now!

Not only do we have fields of canola in bloom in the district, but the bushland reserves and roadsides are a seas of colour -from pink fairy orchids and yellow cowslips to wattles, leschenaultias and hakeas.

It's a great opportunity to take a drive and have a stroll in one of the many beautiful reserves – follow the link to the self-drive wildflower map

The Clubbed Spider Orchid (Caladenia longiclavata) is flowering at Myrtle Benn Flora and Fauna Sanctuary. the Clubbed Spider Orchid can grow up to 400mm in height and has one or two, greenish-yellow flowers with red markings.

This attractive Orchid is distinguished by its heavily-clubbed petals and sepals, a feature which is only shared with the closely related Stumpy Spider Orchid.

The Clubbed Spider Orchid can be found between Perth and Albany, growing in sandy soils, Sheoak woodland near the coast and in lateritic loams in jarrah and dense Karri forest inland.

The Winter Donkey Orchid (Diuris brumalis) is also flowering at Myrtle Benn Flora and Fauna Sanctuary. Winter Donkey Orchids are one of the first orchids to flower each season.

In July and August, it is a common sight along the edge of the Darling Scarp particularly in areas burnt by summer fire.

This Orchid is distinguished by its early flowering period, its large pale yellow and brown flowers and its prominent lateral lobes and relatively small mid-lobe on the labellum.

Brochures for Kojonup's Myrtle Benn Flora and Fauna Sanctuary and Farrar Dam Reserve can be found at The Kojonup Visitor Centre.

WORKS AND SERVICES

Road Works Update

The Works and Services Team would like to thank road users for being patient while weather conditions have not been favorable. As weather conditions continue to improve, teams will be undertaking the grading and repairs throughout our road networks so please keep an eye out for team members as they progress the following works:

- ✓ Graders are located in the Balgarup area and Magini Road areas.
- ✓ Bitumen/pot holing crews will be attending to repairs on pot holes on all our bitumen roads.
- ✓ Trucks carting gravel to cover severe pot holes/wash outs in various areas.

Due to the heavy rains we have experienced, several culverts are also blocked however, these will also be cleaned over the coming weeks.

LANDCARE

NRM Drought Resilience Trial – EOI – Final Call

The Landcare office has had a successful application with the Commonwealth Government Future Drought Fund – NRM Drought Resilience Grant Program. The Project design will be based on the Future Farms Industry ENRICH research. The project aims to reduce supplementary feeding during the summer/autumn feed gap and, importantly, by deferring the grazing of other parts of the farm at the break-of-season, allowing better management and more pasture to be grown elsewhere. There are also environmental benefits, such as controlling dry land salinity, wind and water erosion and waterlogging.

An expression of interest is now open to Landholders within the Shire of Kojonup who are interested in having a demonstration site on their land (approximately 10Ha each). The project will commence in October 2021 with completion in June 2023 and includes paddock assessment for suitability of the site, design and species selection by an agronomist, pasture seed and perennial shrubs as well as fencing material. If you are interested in increasing on-farm drought resilience in participating in the project to submit an expression of interest to Adele landcare@kojonup.wa.gov.au by 31 August 2021.

Community Planting -St Bernard's Primary School

Over the past two weeks the Students from Kindy to year 6 at St Bernard's Primary school have assisted the Shire of Kojonup to plant over 3000 seedlings at the Robinson Road Landfill Site and the Kojonup Air strip as part of National Tree day activities.

We were lucky to have sunny days for planting with follow up rain to give the plants a good start.

Thanks to everyone that came along and got their hands dirty and their boots muddy for the environment.
